

- FROM A NATIVE TEXAN -

March 19, 1962

Dear Voter:

The interest and grave concern over national, state, and local affairs which affect everyone is often evidenced by letters from the readers printed on the editorial pages of our daily papers.

There are eight candidates in the field striving for the highest state office which it is within our power to give. One of them, who is NOT a professional politician, one who serves no special interest, stands far to the front of the others, since his only ambition is to serve the patriotic people of Texas, who long for the return of our law-makers to constitutional government.

Texas can become the leader of all the fifty sovereign states making up these United States of America if only YOU, the voter, will look seriously back over the last several years and become startled—yes, really alarmed—at the realization of how far to the left this nation has been guided. Then make up your mind to support and to work for the election of General Edwin A. Walker for Governor of Texas.

LOVE is the strongest force in the world. My friend, if you love your country and sincerely want to save it from communism, you will take your most important step in that direction by casting your vote on May 5th for General Edwin A. Walker to be the next Governor of Texas.

As a native Texan, I make this direct appeal to you.

Seriously and respectfully yours, or ideological grounds and have suffered damage to life and limb, health, liberty, possessions, property, or economic advancement shall be entitled to complete restitution. It was further enacted that speedy restitution should be made of all identifiable property (tangible and intangible) to persons whether natural or juristic, who were unjustly deprived of such property between 30th January 1933 and 8th May 1945 for reasons of race, religion, nationality, political views, or political opposition to national socialism.

According to these laws, Jews were to be given legal title and possession of their properties although they had been sold and transferred, even in cases where Jewish owners had themselves sold their assets. The Supreme International Restitutional Court in Berlin on various occasions ordered the return of estates, houses and assets to Jews now residing outside Germany, on the ground "that the Jewish owners were forced to sell for fear of racial persecution under the Hitler regime."

These are the facts when Jews are victims of persecution and become claimants. On the other hand let us examine the facts when these very same Jews are aggressors and persecutors of Moslems and Christian Arabs in Palestine, and the looters and plunderers of Arab homes and assets.

In 1948 Jews owned less than 1% of Palestine. Without any parallel in modern history, Jews plundered public and private property in the areas they occupied. Since 1948, Polish, German, Russian and American Jews and Jews of dozens of other nationalities have been unlawfully appropriating Arab homes, properties and stealing the income thereof. This annual income from private Arab properties exceeds one hundred million dollars. The oranges Jews export to Western Europe are Arab oranges. The olives and olive oil Jews export to the United States are from Arab olive groves, the fruits, the wheat, and the vegetables Jews eat grow on Arab farms. Seventy percent of the homes in which Jews are living are Arab homes.

When Arab States requested United Nations, in its Special Session of April 1961, to appoint an Administrator or Trustee to conserve and administer Arab properties in occupied Palestine, the same International Zionist gang which extorted billions of dollars from Germany, and which pressed for and obtained restitution of Jewish properties throughout Europe, objected and clamored "we shall not permit United Nations to interfere with our sovereignty." Zionists are determined to keep their stolen loot in defiance of International Law, United Nations Charter and every canon of morality, honesty, and decency.

What is truly incomprehensible and puzzling is the fact that the three Western Powers which enacted the Laws in occupied Germany for restitution to Jews of their assets, and compensation to Jews, were the only members in United Nations which lobbied and pressured various delegations to prevent the adoption by United Nations of Arab proposals for the appointment of a United Nations Trustee to administer Arab assets pending the restoration of these assets to their rightful Arab owners. Do these Western Powers maintain there are two scales of justice, one for the Arabs and one for the Jews? Do these Western Powers maintain a Jew is entitled to restitution of his assets in Germany and elsewhere and an Arab is not entitled to restitution of his home and assets in his ancestral homeland? Zionists are guilty under International Law and stand condemned as such before the world. The Arabs demand restitution. What is at stake is more than material wealth. It is the birthright and self-determination of a nation. It is the liberty, freedom and independence of the Christian and Moslem Arabs in Palestine.

GENEVA SPIRT AGAIN?

after the war, U.S. Government documents relating to the Yalta Conference were published. One document was an indignant dispatch from the American Ambassador in Moscow concerning what he regarded as an impertinent suggestion by Molotov that, after the war, the United States should give the Soviet Union credits amounting to six billion dollars, to be used for the buying of various strategic materials. On the very day that this dispatch was written, Roosevelt's Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, sent a memorandum to the White House suggesting post-war credits for the Soviet Union not of six billion dollars but of ten billion, at a lower rate of interest than even Molotov had ventured to suggest and repayable over a long period.

STALIN TO BLAME?

Bolshevism having swallowed much of Europe and being in process of swallowing China (with the aid of General George S. Marshall, of the Roosevelt gang), a further period of apparent coolness developed between the Soviet Union and the U.S. Government. (There was even a war in Korea, which the U.S. Government did its damnest to prevent General Douglas A. MacArthur from fighting after the Soviet Union had continued to boycott the U.N. Security Council rather than veto it.) But of course there was a perfectly reasonable explanation for this coolness. It was Stalin's fault! (Unlike many generally accepted explanations of political events, this one may well be true.) Once Stalin was out of the way, the Geneva Spirit was brewed, and the Republican President Eisenhower quaffed it eagerly. Then came the Soviet brutality in Hungary, which was more than the American people could stomach, and Eisenhower was left only with a hangover. His next attempt to act in the spirit of Wilson's Sixth Point came too near to the end of his last term of office. Krushchev derided and humiliated him, and in came Kennedy, who avows the aim of "improving the atmosphere between Moscow and Washington."

Scarcely anybody doubts that the visit of Pierre Salinger to Moscow is a preliminary to a visit of President Kennedy to Moscow. Salinger himself chose a very "cagey" form of words in commenting on this possibility. "There has been no discussion," he said, after last Tuesday's lunch, "relating my trip to Moscow to a later visit by the President." Perhaps he had forgotten that in theory he had only just received his own invitation over the lunch-table.
